

One of the most wonderful things about FBC Bellville is our desire to minister to every person regardless of one's age. This desire originates from Jesus' command that His followers make disciples in Matthew 28. Every soul is important to God, and FBC strives to be a congregation in which all individuals are poured into and are called to use their talents to share Jesus with others.

God has blessed our church in amazing ways as we carry out the great commission. It is the reason why women of our church are teaching Bible studies, taking retreats, and pouring into moms of the community. It's why men wake up at early hours to study the Word, participate in disaster relief efforts, and fellowship and pray together. Our children and youth ministries are gospel-centered, and unabashedly teach a Biblical worldview to young people which leads them to a personal relationship with Jesus.

We never want to stop being this type of Church. The North Campus will give FBC the ability to better minister to children and youth within their own dedicated space. Additionally, the new building will allow FBC to minister to a larger number of people for years to come. Jacquelyn K. Heasley correctly stated the correlation between ministry and people, "Use your ministry to build people, not people to build your ministry." Pray that our ministries will continue to make a difference in the lives of all people in Austin County. It is why our church exists.

PRAYER FOCUS:

1. What area can I be used in to help advance the Kingdom of God?
2. Pray for the different ministries of FBC to be effective in changing the lives of men and women.
3. Pray for new ministries that are needed to reach even more people for Jesus.
